Seminars for Educators

from David Mallery Seminars

Share Success • Discuss Problems • Enrich Your Work

November Seminar

The Experienced Pro

A National Seminar for Ace Teachers

This gathering is for the school's stars, a chance to meet with fellow Experienced Pros to reflect, explore, give and get perspective, generate some new ideas, and savor and confirm some old and valuable ones. It is for Aces, coming together with fellow Aces, finding good company, being good company!

February Seminar

the administrator's life

This is a seminar for division heads, deans of faculty, deans of studies, department heads, admissions officers, counselors, athletic directors, classroom teachers—anyone who has administrative responsibilities in your school. It is about using your talents and energies in ways that allow you to flourish as yourself and as part of your school.

April Seminar

A set of vigorous, practical, experiences for new teachers. A chance to share, to focus on bringing your own personal vision together with students, colleagues, and your school; strategies for developing as your career unfolds; and much more.

April Invitational Gathering

The Spring Seminar-Treat for the Head of the School

An invitation-only gathering for school heads offering time with 20 other school heads; a chance to meet and talk with two authors who bring many ideas and resources—all in a setting that is comfortable, with beautiful grounds for walks, runs, and exploring woods. Use our Web site to apply on line. Or call 215-242-0731, write, or e-mail us.

June Invitational Gathering

Westtown Seminar on Teaching

The Westtown Seminar is an invitational experience that brings together people in education. Its center is the exploration of ways of teaching and learning. Participants live on the campus of Westtown School in Westtown, PA—an ideal setting for reflection. Call 215-242-0731, write, or e-mail us.

July Seminar

Writing Our Lives

A Seminar for People Who Write (or who would like to write)

Designed for people who write (or would like to), this seminar combines readings and workshops with time for reflection and writing, personal writing projects, narrating experiences, exploring the dramatic structure of stories, and creating characters.

David Mallery also leads a number of regional workshops and in-school seminars during the year. You will find a listing and more information at www.davidseminars.com. Or call David Mallery Seminars for information about appearances in your area.
